

ABSTRACT

The subject invention relates to DNA encoding an anti-microbial protein from Macadamia integrifolia, homologues of the protein, and variants of the protein. The invention further relates to constructs comprising the DNA, and host cells, plants and plant material comprising such constructs.